

MyPrint Corporation Reaches Final Round in Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year Awards

IRVINE, Calif., May 18, 2007—MyPrint Corporation, a leader in providing business services software applications, is pleased to announce that the company and its president and CEO Kent Barkouras have been selected as one of the finalists in the 2007 Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year (EOY) Awards in Orange County. Each year, the EOY program recognizes top performing businesses and applauds entrepreneurial leaders and visionaries.

“I am both thrilled and honored for the company to be considered as one of the top businesses for the prestigious EOY award, especially among so many of today’s amazing entrepreneurial leaders” said Barkouras. “I am so proud of my partners and employees and am pleased that this recognition further supports all of our efforts in MyPrint’s continuing growth and success.”

MyPrint’s explosive growth in recent years can be largely attributed to the demand of its award-winning eTools product, an on-demand software application which offers revolutionary and innovative print management software solutions to enable organizations anywhere in the world to easily manage and order branded sales and marketing materials cost-effectively from a web-based portal.

MyPrint serves industry leaders in eight vertical markets globally, and plans to continue growing beyond its current industries of distribution, education, financial services, healthcare, hospitality, retail, travel and manufacturing.
