

Los Angeles Times

NEED TO KNOW

NEWS • TIPS • TRENDS

Los Angeles Times

Crystal Cove park camp is set to open

A new $15-million coastal campground at Crystal Cove State Park in Orange County was to open last week. The Moro Campground, although not directly on the beach (above), offers 60 hilltop campsites facing the ocean. Some, with electrical hookups, go for $65 a night; others, for tents and soft-sided trailers, are $50 a night. The park also has added 200 day-use spots that cost $15 each. The campsites join 13 vintage beach cottages in the Crystal Cove Historic District (two more are set to open this summer) and 32 primitive backcountry campsites that are reached by a hike of three or four miles. Info: (949) 494-3539, www.parks.ca.gov. Reservations: ReserveAmerica at (800) 444-7275, www.reserveamerica.com/.

— MARY FORGIONE