Farmers & Merchants Bank honored nine Long Beach area residents and two South Bay residents for their notable impacts on the community at the first-ever "People You Can Bank On" breakfast. Held August 25 at Virginia Country Club, F&M Bank, according to a spokesperson, took this opportunity to recognize and pay tribute to visionary leaders who share the bank's core values of service, integrity and reliability. Pictured, from left, are: W. Henry Walker, chief executive officer of F&M Bank; Mark Schneider, owner of Dave Schneider Jewelry; Richard Blade, owner of six McDonald's restaurants and resident of Rolling Hills Estates; Blair Cohn, executive director of the Bixby Knolls Business Improvement Association; Thomas Rhoads, professor at California State University, Long Beach; Myrvin Ellestad, former chief of cardiology at Long Beach Memorial Hospital (seated); Rod Wilson, president of the East Anaheim Street Business Alliance; George Murchison, former Port of Long Beach harbor commissioner; Wayne Piercy, former mayor of the City of Lakewood; Kenneth Walker, main office president of F&M Bank (seated); Cindy Atkinson, owner of Coffee Cup Café in Belmont Shore; Peter Pettler, founding partner of Pettler & Miller; Kevin MacDonald, chief executive officer of The Arc in Artesia; Christine Walker, vice president of F&M Bank; and Daniel Walker, president and chairman of the board of F&M Bank.
