Jerri Rosen, Founder & CEO

Working Wardrobes, Costa Mesa

Jerri Rosen has led the nonprofit Working Wardrobes in providing career development services and professional wardrobing to men, women and young adults emerging from life crises for the past 20 years. As founder and CEO, Jerri is an advocate of self-sufficiency and independence, helping Working Wardrobes' clients re-enter the workforce armed with the necessary tools for success. The organization has served more than 50,000 people in Southern California in partnership with more than 50 local shelters and social service agencies. To assist in financing the programs, Jerri initiated a chain of successful resale boutiques (The Hanger) operated by Working Wardrobes that accounts for 35% of revenue. In 2010, Jerri was presented with the Outstanding Founder Award at the 25th annual National
